 Longwood at Home™
Positively Living

You need to plan now if you want to spend retirement in your home—to assure yourself any long-term care you'll need, to shield your assets from the soaring cost of health care—and to keep control of your own independence.

Read about the plan that does all that and more:

How can you help me feel secure, staying in my home for retirement?

Ordinarily you'd have to move to a retirement community to get all this on-site, long-term support in one place:

- Nursing care
- Home health aides
- Companions
- Emergency response services
- Meals
- Transportation

Longwood at Home brings all these services—and more—right to your home. It's a Continuing Care Retirement Community without walls. Even better, it's continuing care within the walls of the home you love.

Couldn't I just hire a home care agency?

It's almost impossible to find one agency that will provide and coordinate all these services for you seamlessly.

You or your loved ones will have to take charge of scheduling and rescheduling, paperwork and logistics. If a caregiver doesn't show up on time or there's a glitch in your bill, you have to handle it.

Longwood at Home gives you one Care Coordinator who takes care of everything: one go-to person who knows you and your family well.

Why not just buy long-term care insurance?

Most have coverage gaps, like a 100-day waiting period before your benefits begin.

Most require you to need help with at least two activities of daily living before you qualify for help.

Most have exclusions that deny payment for services you may need.

Those are just three examples of the limitations you face. Longwood at Home closes those gaps and exclusions. Your services begin as soon as you need them.

How does it work?

Longwood at Home is equivalent to living at a continuing care retirement community (CCRC) without having to move out of your home.

For a one-time membership fee and a simple monthly fee, you get a comprehensive range of care and supportive services—backed by a commitment to quality by our sponsor, Presbyterian SeniorCare, Western Pennsylvania’s largest provider of senior care and services.

Similar to a retirement community, Longwood at Home has different financial options to fit your budget and your needs.

Is it more expensive?

When you look at everything included—and delivered to your home—you’ll find Longwood at Home is not more expensive than a retirement community.

Instead of paying for health care as you need it—the most expensive option—you have predictable costs that don’t change dramatically, even if your health needs do.

You get substantial income tax benefits from your membership fee and monthly fees.

You can even choose an option guaranteed to return 90% of your one-time membership fee to your estate.

Over the past decade, Longwood at Home members have found the program to be affordable, reliable and cost-efficient. Hear from them at www.LongwoodAtHome.org

What’s the next step?

Talk to a Longwood At Home representative. Learn about the benefits in more detail. There’s no sales pressure: As part of Presbyterian SeniorCare, our mission is service first.

If you decide to choose Longwood at Home, you’ll meet your personal Care Coordinator for an in-depth discussion of your plans—and how Longwood at Home can help you stay at home with security and confidence.
